

Big Brother Casting Video — Cheat Sheet

Not a script. A GPS. Know the stops, riff between them. Target: 2:00–2:30 minutes.

STOP 1 — COLD OPEN

"I run real estate deals in Phoenix AND Detroit at the same time. Different markets, different people, different psychology. You want to talk about reading a room? I read two rooms — in different time zones — every single day."

Start mid-energy, not mid-introduction. Don't say "Hi I'm Angelo" first.

STOP 2 — WHO YOU ARE (30–40 SEC)

Pick 2–3 of these, whatever flows. Don't hit all of them:

- Entrepreneur — always have multiple things running at once
- Have a startup in the works — in-seat stadium food delivery
- Seinfeld obsessive — entire business team is named after characters
- Chasing Italian dual citizenship
- Big Brother superfan who's been saying "I should apply" for years

Goal: they're thinking this guy has a lot going on.

STOP 3 — WHY YOU'D BE A PROBLEM (20–30 SEC)

- Real estate is all social reads, negotiation, knowing when to move
 - Used to managing multiple relationships at once and keeping people feeling good
 - Not going in to be a villain — but also not going in to finish 8th

STOP 4 — WHY NOW (15–20 SEC)

Personal and specific. Give the real answer — why has it always been "someday" and why is someday now? Even if it's honest and a little funny, that's better than polished.

STOP 5 — CLOSE STRONG (5–10 SEC)

You liked these two. Pick one, or film both and decide after:

OPTION A — SHORT & CONFIDENT

"I'm ready. Let's go."

Hold eye contact an extra beat after. Hits harder than anything clever.

OPTION B — PERSONALITY CLOSER

"My AI team is named after Seinfeld characters, I'm chasing Italian citizenship, and I'm trying to put food in stadium seats. I promise you — I am never boring."

Decide: Use A if the video was high-energy. Use B if it was more conversational. When in doubt, film both.

FILMING SETUP

- Location: Your driveway — house/garage behind you, AZ context
- Horizontal — phone propped on car hood or roof, NOT handheld
- Distance: 6–8 feet back, chest height
- Light: Morning or 2 hrs before sunset — never midday AZ sun
- Film twice without reviewing the first take — first take is instinct
- Start talking before it feels ready. Slight awkwardness reads as authentic
- Smile more than feels normal
